What Is This Class About?

Every day you are faced with moral decisions, many of them quite difficult. This course is designed to give you the tools with which you will be able to think about such issues more carefully and clearly. We will achieve this result by way of exploring a number of interesting contemporary issues. For instance:

- What is morality? Is it just something that we made up?
- Does our government have legitimate authority over us?
- Do all adult citizens have a right to vote?
- Should we open our borders to immigrants?
- Should recreational drugs be legal? How about the sale of human organs?
- Should procreation be regulated?
- Is it morally permissible to kill fetuses? Or the terminally ill?
- Is death even bad? Or, is it good that we die?
- Is it morally wrong to eat animals?
- Do we have a moral obligation to help starving people?
- What are our duties with respect to climate change and greenhouse gas emissions?
- What code of ethics should artificial intelligences (e.g., driverless cars) be given?
- And many more...

Throughout our investigation of these questions, the primary goal will be to make you a better moral thinker. That is, ultimately I hope to help you to (i) think more carefully and critically, (ii) be able to better supply clear and persuasive reasons for your ethical beliefs, and (iii) acquire some of the necessary tools that will enable you to further investigate moral issues on your own.
Course Requirements

1. Exams (35%): You will take a mid-term exam (15%) and a final exam (20%).

2. Papers (30%): You will write two papers. The first (10%) will be a short diagnostic paper of 600-900 words (i.e., roughly 2-3 pages), and the second (20%) will be a longer paper of 1200-1800 words in length (i.e., roughly 4-6 pages).

3. Reading Quizzes (15%): For each of the assigned readings (23 in all), you will take a short quiz on that reading before the week begins. Your lowest quiz score will be dropped; i.e., your 22 best scores will constitute your total quiz grade (~0.68% each).

4. Group Video Project (10%): In groups of five, you will become informed about one of seven controversial moral issues. Your team will then produce a short video about it.

5. Discussion (10%): You will regularly contribute to informal discussions about the material with your classmates, in an online discussion forum.

Finding the Course Materials

1. Lectures: Videos of my lectures for each week will be released every Monday at 9am ET on Blackboard under ‘Video Lectures’. (At that time, I will also post written versions of my lectures on Blackboard under ‘Lecture Notes’.)

   For example, video lectures on the topics for Week 4, Mon 9/20 – Fri 9/24 (drug legalization and kidney sales) will become available Monday, 9/20 at 9am ET.

2. Readings: There is no textbook for this course. Links to electronic copies of the assigned readings are accessible on Blackboard under ‘Readings’.

3. Reading Quizzes: There will be a quiz on each of the assigned readings. Find them on Blackboard under ‘Reading Quizzes’. Quizzes are due by the beginning of the week during which we will discuss those readings (i.e., before my video lectures on them are released). Quizzes will become available on Blackboard one week in advance.

   For example, quizzes on the readings for Week 4, Mon 9/20 – Fri 9/24 (Huemmer on drug legalization and Radcliffe-Richards on kidney sales) will become available on Monday, 9/13 at 9am ET and will be due by 9am ET on Monday 9/20.

4. Papers and Group Projects: Instructions for the paper assignments and the group video projects are available on Blackboard under ‘Assignments’. During the second week of class, I will also send out a link to a sign-up sheet for the group projects.

5. Discussion: Find discussion boards on Blackboard under ‘Weekly Discussion’.

6. Exams: Exams will appear on Blackboard on the scheduled day under ‘Exam’.

Additional Course Policies

Frequently Asked Questions
Answers to frequently asked questions can be found here: http://rintintin.colorado.edu/~vancecd/faq.pdf
Two notes: (1) You are responsible for reading the FAQ by the end of the first week of class. (2) Please consult this syllabus and the FAQ first, whenever you have a question about the course.

Academic Integrity
All students of the College of William & Mary are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity honor code policy of this institution. Violations of this policy include: cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication, lying, and stealing. All incidents of academic misconduct shall be reported to the Honor Council. More information about the honor code can be found at: wm.edu/offices/deanofstudents/services/studentconduct/studenthandbook/honor_system/index.php

NOTE: Students who are found to be in violation of the honor code will be subject to both academic sanctions from the faculty member (i.e., you will automatically receive an F for the course) as well as non-academic sanctions (which include academic probation, suspension, or expulsion).

Student Conduct
Students and faculty each have a responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. Those who fail to adhere to the code of conduct may be subject to discipline. More information at: wm.edu/offices/deanofstudents/services/studentconduct/studenthandbook/student_code_of_conduct/index.php

Disability & Accessibility Services
If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability or any issue affecting accessibility, please submit to me a letter from Accessibility Services in a timely manner so that your needs may be addressed. More information can be found in the Campus Center (room 109), 757-221-2510, or at: wm.edu/offices/deanofstudents/services/studentaccessibilityservices/

Religious Observances
Campus policy regarding religious observances requires that faculty make every effort to reasonably and fairly deal with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments, or required attendance. Please let me know by the end of the drop/add period about any such conflicts, so that we can resolve them. More information at: wm.edu/about/administration/provost/forfacstaff/holidays/religiousguidelines/index.php

Discrimination and Harassment
The College of William & Mary policies on Discrimination and Sexual Harassment apply to all students, staff, and faculty. Any student, staff, or faculty member who believes s/he has been the subject of sexual harassment and/or discrimination based upon race, sex, gender, national origin, sexual orientation, religious belief, political belief, disability, veteran status, age, or any other category protected by the Commonwealth or by federal law should contact the Office of Compliance and Equity on the first floor of James Blair Hall. More information about discrimination and harassment can be found at: wm.edu/offices/compliance/policies/student_discim_policies/index.php
